Ways to Live One for All

CU1 Invest in the Giving Moments

If you're eager to make a positive difference in your local community, we have loads of ways to get started. As a member-owned credit union, we focus our energy on both the financial and social needs of our fellow Alaskans! Each week, you'll find us raising funds and volunteering as well as providing financial empowerment and educational opportunities across the state. What are we up to lately? Check it out!

Fundraising

Within CU1 branches, we love to chat about our monthly fundraisers. In October, we're raising funds for the One for All Alaska Fund, which helps promote positive change in our branch communities! Our goal is to raise at least $5,000 for each monthly cause, and our members are the best at helping make this happen. To donate today, please visit any CU1 branch or transfer funds via Online Access. Learn more under the Community tab of cu1.org.

Have you been to a Credit Union 1 Member Appreciation Party? These celebrations are held annually in our branch communities, and each event includes a silent auction to benefit a local organization. CU1 matches all donations made during the evening up to $10,000!

In August, we hosted a Member Appreciation Party in Nome, and with our matching donation, this close-knit community helped raise $6,700 for the Nome Community Center!

In 2015, CU1 contributed and fundraised $247,146. Members donated a remarkable $125,517 of those funds via our monthly branch fundraisers!

Keep an eye on cu1.org, our social media pages or the back of this newsletter for upcoming events!

Volunteering

CU1 employees are an active bunch whether at work or at large in their communities. Last year, we volunteered 4,595 hours to non-profits, schools and projects throughout Alaska! Over 1,000 of these hours happened in just one day – CU1 CommUNITY Day – when 200+ employees spent their Indigenous Peoples Day/Columbus Day holiday giving back to friends and neighbors.

Financial Empowerment

To financially empower Alaskans, CU1 offers unique opportunities for spending, saving and building credit. We're not-for-profit, which means the products we offer our members are for YOUR best interest, not a stockholder's! Explore cu1.org for more ways we can help you succeed.

Many Alaskans could use a helping hand in learning how to manage their money. That's why we offer free Discover Financial Fitness classes online or in-person! Topics include budgeting, saving, fraud protection, home buying and more. Sign up for our next free class under the Education tab of cu1.org.

COMMUNITY DAY CU1

Invest in the Community Moments

As cooler weather comes our way in Alaska, Credit Union 1 has some great ways to help you stay warm. Our #1 idea? Join in on heart-warming activities! Whether you'd like to donate funds or simply share emotional support, these efforts to help others in need are sure to cut the chill in the months ahead. Plus, you'll be helping build a healthier, happier community!

At Credit Union 1, we're always excited to lend a hand. In fact, we've built the value of philanthropy into our motto: One for All! To us, this phrase emphasizes how one person (or one organization) can make a difference in the well-being of all Alaskans.

We'll show you how.

Apply for an Insurance Waiver

To boost your budget in the coming months, don't forget to take advantage of a seasonal insurance waiver for your Alaskan toys in storage. If your RV, motorcycle or other adventure vehicle will be out of commission for winter, you may be able to enjoy an insurance break during the lay-up season! Call or visit CU1 today to ask about the opportunity to carry liability-only insurance for a limited time.

Help Guide CU1's Future!
